Esteras stands for design and authenticity. Not only are these products beautiful, but they are crafted to be exceptionally durable as well. This isn't just a promise—it's backed by a lifetime guarantee.

WINTER-PROOF.
FROST-PROOF.
FROST-RESISTANT.
WHAT DOES THAT MEAN?

When thinking about the best way to winterize planters, there's one thing everyone should realize: freezing water expands and even is capable of cracking steel. It is therefore impossible to produce pots that are 100% frost-proof. The amount of water contained in the pot determines its durability. All Esteras planters are manufactured exclusively by hand using the best quality materials and with the greatest of care. They are subject to strict quality controls, and, with proper care, they will withstand the winter months.

WINTER CARE

The best plan is to store both the plant and the pot in a dry, sheltered place. If the planted container is to be left outside, then the container must have excellent drainage. Raise the container off the ground to allow the water to drain and prevent it from freezing to the level surface. We recommend placing containers under a covered location where you can determine the amount of water in the container. Take care to prevent water from gathering in empty containers by storing them upside down or with a cover.
